

CODE OF BUSINESS CONDUCT AND ETHICS

August 2026

SUMMARY OF THE CODE'S PRINCIPLES¹

PROTECTING THE COMPANY'S ASSETS, RESOURCES AND DATA

- We often have sensitive confidential information about our company, our affiliates, and other companies and about officers and employees; preserving the integrity of this information is vital to our business and reputation and is necessary to meet our obligations under data protection laws.
- Electronic communications relating to business activities may not be conducted through electronic communication systems that have not been specifically approved for business activities, including (among others) personal email accounts, personal text messaging, non-approved chat forums, and social media.
- Employees must treat internal and personal information with appropriate sensitivity (i.e., no one should retain passports or bank account information in their email) and mitigate cybersecurity risks by being vigilant about opening attachments or clicking on links.

ACCURACY OF BOOKS AND RECORDS AND PUBLIC DISCLOSURES

- We should take care that our books and records are accurate and that all our business transactions are properly authorized.
- As an affiliate of a public company, we must ensure that our communications and other disclosures to the market are true and accurate.

DUTIES TO STAKEHOLDERS

- At Brookfield India Real Estate Trust (BIRET) (the “company”) our reputation is everything and we should act responsibly in dealings with our security holders, customers, clients, investors, suppliers, other stakeholders, and competitors.
- We must manage capital as though it were our own.

COMMUNICATIONS AND MEDIA

- In this digital era in which we operate, be careful in your written communications made over company information systems, such as email and messaging application, as this is a permanent record.
- You must ensure that your online activities, including your use of social media, are appropriate and reflect well on us and BIRET.
- As previously noted, business communications must be made only through specifically approved channels.

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST AND PERSONAL BEHAVIOUR

- As a representative of the company your personal behavior must be consistent with our values.
- Be cognizant that we face risks that one's personal interests may conflict with or appear to conflict with the interests of the company.

POSITIVE WORK ENVIRONMENT

- We value diversity, equity, and inclusion, and we should all do our part to maintain our respectful work environment where everyone feels safe, included and productive.

¹ These principles are for summary purposes only. For more detailed information on each of these items consult the Code attached.

- Our success is dependent on establishing a workplace culture free from discrimination, violence, harassment and other negative influences.

COMPLIANCE WITH LAWS, RULES, REGULATIONS AND POLICIES

- We operate in many jurisdictions and are subject to different laws, rules and regulations; you need to be aware of the laws that apply to your activities so that you can comply with them; ignorance of the law is no excuse.
- The company has corporate policies that you must be familiar with, as they govern your trading activities, business practices and other conduct.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

WHY DO WE HAVE A CODE?

The Code serves as a guide for how you should conduct yourself as a member of our team. Preserving our corporate culture and ensuring compliance with legal, regulatory and fiduciary duties is vital to the organization and following the Code helps us do that.

WHO MUST FOLLOW THE CODE?

All officers, employees, temporary workers; consultants, vendors and tenants “we”, “us”, “our” or the “company”) of BIRET / group companies in India.

WHAT ARE YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES?

You have two responsibilities. First, you must follow every aspect of the Code and certify your commitment each year. Second, if you suspect someone may be violating the Code or the policies referred to herein, you have an obligation to report it. To make a report, follow the section of the Code: “Reporting Potential Code Violations”.

HOW WILL I KNOW IF THERE IS A PROBLEM?

The Code attempts to deal with the most common issues that you may encounter, but it cannot address every question that may arise. When you’re not sure what to do, ask yourself the following questions:

- Is it illegal?
- Does it feel like the wrong thing to do?
- Would you feel uncomfortable if others knew about it?
- Will it have the potential to create a negative perception of you or the company?
- Do you have a personal interest that has the potential to conflict with the company’s interest?

If you answer “yes” to any of these questions your proposed conduct may violate the Code and you should ask for help.

HOW SHOULD I ASK FOR HELP?

If you have questions about the Code, any policies or guidelines referred to herein, or about the best course of action to take in a particular situation, you should seek guidance from your supervisor or Regulatory and Compliance / Legal (a list of these members and their contact information is set forth on schedule A).

WHAT IF I WOULD LIKE TO MAKE AN ANONYMOUS REPORT?

You may make an anonymous report by contacting the company's reporting hotline, which is operated by an independent third party and is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. The Reporting Hotline phone numbers by jurisdiction are set forth on schedule A. If you choose to make an anonymous report, your anonymity will be protected to the fullest extent possible as permitted by law. Keep in mind, however, that maintaining your anonymity may limit the company's ability to investigate your concerns.

WHAT ARE THE CONSEQUENCES FOR VIOLATING THE CODE?

Violations of the Code or the policies and guidelines incorporated by reference herein, can vary in its consequences. If you're an employee, it could result in a reprimand or other disciplinary action, including the termination of your employment at the company for cause. Certain violations of the Code also contravene applicable laws and therefore can have severe consequences outside of Company. Depending on your actions, failing to comply with the Code could lead to civil or criminal prosecution, which could result in substantial fines, penalties and/or imprisonment.

INTRODUCTION

This Code of Business Conduct and Ethics (“the Code”) applies to all directors, officers, employees, affiliates, temporary workers² and business partners including tenants of Brookfield India Real Estate Trust, manager of Brookfield India Real Estate Trust, and all entity owned or controlled by Brookfield India Real Estate Trust; “BIRET”³, “Company”, “we”, “us”, or “our”

STANDARDS OF BUSINESS CONDUCT

The company seeks to foster and maintain a reputation for honesty, openness, trust, integrity and professionalism. The confidence and trust placed in the company by customers, clients, investors, owners, suppliers, other stakeholders, and competitors of the company and its affiliates (collectively, our “stakeholders”) is something we value greatly and endeavor to protect. In many respects, our reputation is our most vital business asset. Accordingly, all of our activities should be conducted with honesty and integrity and in compliance with applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

We have adopted the Code and related policies and procedures to preserve our culture and to ensure compliance with legal, regulatory and fiduciary requirements applicable to our activities. We expect and require that you meet the letter and spirit of the Code (and related policies and procedures as updated and/or superseded from time to time). This Code should be read in conjunction with the policies and related documents referenced in various sections. You are expected to review and understand these, as well as any other company policies and procedures applicable to you.

PROTECTING THE COMPANY’S ASSETS, RESOURCES AND DATA

The company’s assets are to be used only for legitimate business purposes only.

The company’s assets are for business use, not for personal use. The company’s assets span many categories. Assets can be physical, tangible goods, such as office supplies, furniture, computers or intangible items, such as intellectual property. You have a responsibility to safeguard the company’s assets from loss, damage, theft, misuse and waste. If you become aware of loss, damage, theft, misuse or waste of our assets, or have any questions about your proper use of them, you should speak with your supervisor. The company’s name (including its corporate letterhead and logo), facilities and relationships are valuable assets and must only be used for authorized company business.

² For purposes of the Code, “temporary workers” include non-full-time employees and consultants and contractors etc. that work on our premises. The business group retaining a temporary worker is responsible for ensuring that the temporary worker certifies their commitment to comply with the Code.

³ BIRET include the following Brookprop Management Services Private Limited, MountainStar India Office Parks Private Limited, Candor India Office Parks Private Limited, Candor Gurgaon One Realty Projects Private Limited, Candor Kolkata One Hi-Tech Structures Private Limited, Shantiniketan Properties Private Limited, Seaview Developers Private Limited, Festus Properties Private Limited, Kairos Properties Private Limited, Rostrum Realty Private Limited, Aspen Buildtech Private Limited, Oak Infrastructure Developers Private Limited, Arnon Builders & Developers Private Limited, Arliga Ecoworld Business Parks Private Limited, collectively and any other new acquisitions/ addition of BIRET/ Company in India

If you use the company's assets for personal benefit, or otherwise wasteful with the company's assets, you may be in breach of your duty to the company. You have a responsibility not to abuse company resources for reimbursement. Any requests for reimbursement for authorized company expenses must be for legitimate business expenses. If you are unsure whether a certain expense is legitimate, you should speak with your supervisor or refer to the company's Travel & Expense Reimbursement policy.

Confidential information must be protected at all times.

We must protect confidential information in our possession information about us, our affiliates and our stakeholders. Confidential Information includes, but is not limited to, material non-public information, all confidential memos, notes, lists, records, and other documents in your possession, in hard and soft copy. All of these are to be delivered to the company promptly after your employment ceases or at any time upon the company's request, and your obligation to protect this information continues after you leave the company. You must protect hard and soft copies of confidential information that are removed from the office (e.g. to be worked with at home or at external meetings).

It is important to use discretion when discussing company business. This includes respecting any applicable information barrier protocols and discussing company business only with those individuals at the company that have a "need to know" the information. Additionally, be careful not to discuss company business in public places such as elevators, restaurants, and public transportation, or when using your phone or email outside of the office. You should also be careful not to leave confidential information in unattended conference rooms or in public places where others can access it. You must mitigate cybersecurity risks by being vigilant about opening attachments or clicking on links. While at the Company, if you become aware of confidential information about the company or another entity that you know or suspect has been inadvertently disclosed, seek guidance from Regulatory and Compliance / Legal team.

Personal Data held by or on behalf of the company must be used in compliance with data protection laws.

The Company collects personal data regarding individuals both inside and outside the organization where we have the lawful basis for doing so. This is necessary to effectively and efficiently operate our business. Personal data⁴ includes, among other things, sensitive personal, medical and financial information. We should take all reasonable steps to only hold personal data for as long as we have a need to retain it and in accordance with our Data Privacy policy and relevant laws.

Collection and use of personal data are subject to various legal and regulatory requirements. You must take all reasonable steps to ensure that personal data is kept confidential and accessed only by those individuals at the company that have a need to know this information to carry out their duties. In addition, if it is necessary to the conduct of business to disclose personal data to a third party (e.g., so that a third party may provide service to the company or acquire an asset or business of the company) then you must ensure that such transfer complies with applicable legal and regulatory requirements. This may include ensuring that third party is subject to a written agreement which contains confidentiality obligations and, other obligations which must be included under the data protection laws of certain jurisdiction in which we or our stakeholders operate. In all other cases, you may only disclose personal data pursuant to a legal or regulatory requirement.

⁴ "Personal data" has the meaning given to it or any similar term in applicable data protection or privacy legislation.

In the ordinary course, the company transfers personal data between jurisdictions in which the company operates then you must ensure that it is permissible for you to do so (e.g., consent has been given by the individual or an appropriate data transfer agreement has been signed). In addition, you should ensure that the personal data is protected in a manner that is consistent with how personal data is protected by the company within applicable jurisdictions, and in any event in compliance with all applicable data protection laws.

You are responsible for ensuring that you understand and comply with our Data Privacy Policy. For more information about compliance with data protection laws, refer to the company's Data Privacy Policy and related policies referred.

Intellectual property belongs to the company.

During the course of your employment, you may be involved in the creation, development or invention of intellectual property such as concepts, methods, processes, inventions, confidential information and trade secrets, Know how, physical products, ideas, plans, programs, software, applications, code, works of authorship, trademarks, service marks and designs alone or jointly with others, including but not limited to the improvement of the existing intellectual property belonging to the company. All such intellectual property and the rights therein, shall be owned by the company and your moral rights to such intellectual property, if any, will be waived. You are responsible for cooperating with the company and providing all necessary assistance, including the preparation and execution of any necessary documentation such as assignments and applications to register rights before relevant government authorities on behalf of the company, to ensure that all intellectual property and related rights become or are recognized as the exclusive property of the company.

The documents of the company must be preserved.

It is critical that you help preserve our business records, follow the guidelines set forth in any document retention policies and comply with related legal and regulatory requirements. If you are notified that your documents are relevant to an anticipated or pending litigation, investigation or audit, you must follow the guidance set forth in the notification you receive from EVP – Regulatory Affairs & Compliance regarding retention of the documents.

ACCURACY OF BOOKS AND RECORDS AND PUBLIC DISCLOSURES

Ensure that the books and records of the company are complete and accurate and that all business transactions are properly authorized.

The books and records of the company must reflect all its transactions in order to permit the preparation of accurate financial statements. Employees must never conceal information from (i) an external auditor; (ii) internal auditor; or (iii) the Board of Directors of the company or parent company. In addition, it is unlawful for any person to fraudulently influence, coerce, manipulate, or mislead an external auditor of the company.

The company's contracts and agreements govern our business relationships. Because the laws governing contracts and agreements are numerous and complicated, we have put in place policies and procedures to ensure that any contract entered into by the company has the appropriate level of approval. As a result, employees who enter into contracts or agreements on behalf of the company must have proper authorization to do so and, prior to their execution, these documents must be reviewed by EVP – Regulatory Affairs & Compliance where required by policy or practice. If you are unsure whether you have proper authorization to enter into a contract on behalf of the company, refer to the Company's Delegations of Authority.

Ensure that the company provides true, plain and full public disclosure.

All employees who provide information for public disclosure of the company any of our affiliates, must ensure that public disclosures of information are made honestly and accurately. Employees must be aware of and report any of the following: (a) fraud or deliberate errors in the preparation, maintenance, evaluation, review or audit of any financial statement or financial record; (b) deficiencies in, or noncompliance with, internal accounting controls; (c) misrepresentations or false statements, or (d) deviations from full, true and plain reporting of the company's financial condition.

Additionally, each person who is in a financial reporting oversight role, and their family members⁵, are prohibited from obtaining any tax or other services from the external auditor, irrespective of whether the company or such person pays for the services.

DUTIES TO STAKEHOLDERS

Deal fairly with the company's stakeholders.

You must deal fairly with our stakeholders and competitors. To preserve our reputation and relationship with stakeholders, do not engage in any illegal or unethical conduct.

Manage capital as though it were your own.

You must avoid engaging in any activity that could result in an actual, potential or perceived conflict of interest, and avoid any action that may be perceived as a breach of trust, unless such activity is resolved in accordance with a framework that was fully and fairly disclosed to and approved by the relevant stakeholders in accordance with applicable legal and regulatory requirements.

⁵ For the purposes of this code, Family Members are your spouse, partners or other family members who live in the same dwelling as you.

A “conflict of interest” for this purpose occurs when the company’s interest interferes, or even appears to interfere, with the interest of our affiliates or stakeholders.

COMMUNICATION AND MEDIA

Use the company’s various forms of communication properly and appropriately.

All business matters communicated in writing must be conducted via the company’s email system and / or through other systems provided and approved by the company for such use. You must always use our e-mail, Internet, telephones and other forms of communication appropriately and professionally. Employees must comply with our Information Security Policy and all related policies. While we appreciate the need for limited use of these tools for personal purposes, any such use should not be excessive or detract from your work. As outlined in the summary of the Code’s Principles, electronic communications relating to business activities may not be conducted through electronic communications system that have not been specifically approved for business activities, including (among others) personal email accounts, personal text messaging, non-approved chat forums and social media.

Employees should not email business information to their personal email accounts or maintain a copy of business information on their personal computers or other non-work electronic devices. When using company-provided technologies, such as computers, cell phones and voicemail, you should not expect that the information you send or receive is private. Your activity may be monitored to ensure these resources are used appropriately and are in compliance with the company’s policies and laws and regulation; please refer to the company’s Data Privacy policy.

Employees should take care when on the company’s email system, other systems and devices to ensure that no viruses, “trojan horses”, malware or similar items are introduced into the systems or devices, including by clicking on links in phishing emails. You should exercise particular caution when opening unsolicited emails from unknown sources or an email which appears suspicious. Inform the IT Department immediately if you are unsure about the origin of an email or communication, or suspect your IT equipment/devices may have a virus. You must be particularly vigilant if you use our IT equipment/devices outside the workplace and you must take such precautions as we may require from time to time against importing viruses or compromising system security. The system contains information which is confidential and subject to data protection legislation. Such information must be treated with extreme care and in accordance with our Data Privacy policy.

Be cautious in your use of social media.

The company’s social media policy is that, unless you are expressly authorized, you are strictly prohibited from commenting, or posting about or otherwise discussing the company, its stakeholders, its employees, and its securities, investments and other business matters on all social media forums including but not limited, social networks, chat rooms, wikis, virtual worlds and blogs (collectively, “social media”). You are a representative of the company when engaging in online activities and you must ensure that your behavior online, including on social media, is appropriate and consistent with our values. For further details on the appropriate use of social media, you should refer to the company’s Information Security Policy.

Do not speak on behalf of the company unless authorized to do so.

As an affiliate of a public company, it is important to ensure our communications to the investing public are: (a) timely; (b) full, true and plain; and (c) consistent and broadly disseminated in accordance with all applicable legal and regulatory requirements. You may not make public statements on the Company's / BIRET behalf unless you have been designated as a "Spokesperson".

If a stakeholder, financial analyst, member of the media or other third-party contacts you to request information, even if the request is informal, do not respond to it unless you are authorized to do so. In this event, refer the request to your supervisor or forward the request to an individual at the company employed in investor relations or communications.

CONFLICTS OF INTEREST AND PERSONAL BEHAVIOUR

Exhibit personal behavior that reinforces a positive image of you and the company.

Your personal behavior, both inside and outside work, should reinforce a positive image of you, the company and its business activities. It is essential to use good judgment in all your personal and business dealings. You should refrain from engaging in activities that could hurt the company's reputation, or yours, and that could undermine the relationship of trust between you and the company or the company and its stakeholders. Employees who have acted inappropriately may be subject to disciplinary action up to and including termination for cause.

The company encourages employees to be active participants in the community, including by engaging in personal, political (in strict compliance with your Company's policy regulating political activity), not-for-profit activities or other like activities. The company also supports employees' participations and memberships in trade associations, industry groups, or other similar organizations. In either case, be mindful that your activities must not prevent you from adequately discharging your duties to the company and should not conflict with or otherwise be adverse to the company's interests. In addition, ensure that when you are involved in these activities you are not seen to be speaking or acting on behalf of the company without express authority.

"Outside Business Activities," otherwise known as "OBAs" include any affiliation with any organization or business other than the Company, including any activity as an employee, independent contractor, sole proprietor, officer, director, or partner of another business organization, regardless of whether compensation is involved. Employees must receive approval from their business unit and a member of the Regulatory and Compliance / Legal team prior to accepting an OBA.

Avoid situations in which your personal interest conflict with the interests of the company or its stakeholders

A "conflict of interest" for this purpose occurs when a person's private interest inclines the person consciously or unconsciously, or appears to incline the person to act in a manner which is not in the interests of the company. You may have a conflict of interest if you are involved in any activity that prevents you from performing your duties to the company properly, or that may create a situation that could affect your ability to act objectively, effectively and in the best interests of the company, including due to among other things, personal interests or receipt of benefit from our relationships with companies, business partners, counterparties, investment banks, brokerage firms, service providers, and other constituencies. Accordingly, you must place the company's interest in any business matter ahead of any personal interest.

Remember that the company's interest includes the company's obligations to its stakeholders.

You may also have a conflict of interest or the appearance of a conflict of interest as a result of a "close personal relationship" with another employee at BIRET or a counterparty with which company is engaging (e.g., a company employee's spouse works at an entity that is being considered as a service provider). To ensure that these relationships are managed appropriately, and to deal with any possible conflicts of interest in an appropriate and responsible manner, you are expected to disclose the existence of such relationships to your Human Resources ("HR") department and/or the Regulatory and Compliance / Legal team.

For the purposes of the Code, a close personal relationship includes, but is not limited to, relationships with a parent or parent equivalent (e.g., adoptive parent), close relative or friend, spouse, fiancée, common law, or anyone else with whom you are in, or have been in, a romantic or intimate relationship.

The best way to judge whether you may have a conflict of interest is to ask yourself whether a well-informed person would reasonably conclude that your interest could in any way influence your decision or performance in carrying out a duty on behalf of the company. To avoid conflicts of interest, identify potential conflicts when they arise, and contact EVP – Regulatory Affairs & Compliance if you are unsure whether a conflict exists. In addition, if you become aware of any conflict or potential conflict of another officer or employee, you should consult with the Regulatory and Compliance / Legal team.

Do not take corporate opportunities as your own personal opportunities.

You are prohibited from taking personal advantage of a business or investment opportunity that you become aware of through your work at the company. You owe a duty to the company to advance its interests when the opportunity arises, and you must not compete with the company in any way.

POSITIVE WORK ENVIRONMENT

Be committed to our respectful work environment free from discrimination⁶ violence⁷ and harassment⁸.

The company is committed to promoting equal opportunities and diversity in the workplace. We value diversity, equity, and inclusion, and we should all do our part to maintain our respectful work environment where everyone feels safe, included and productive. The company does not tolerate workplace discrimination, violence or harassment. All officers and employees must work to ensure that the company is a safe and respectful environment where high value is placed on integrity, fairness and respect. For more information on the company's commitment to its positive work environment, refer to the company's Positive Work Environment Policy.

You have a duty to report discrimination, violence, and harassment.

If you experience or become aware of what you believe to be discrimination, violence, or harassment, you are expected to report it in accordance with the "Reporting Potential Code Violations" section of the Code and/or in accordance with Positive Work Environment Policy. Reports of discrimination, violence or harassment will be taken seriously and investigated. If you are found to be discriminating against acting or threatening to act violently towards or harassment of another individual at the company, or if you knowingly condone the discrimination of, violence towards, or harassment of another individual, you will face corrective action up to and including termination without notice and for cause.

We want to create a culture of reporting when it comes to discrimination, violence, and harassment, as reporting is essential for us as a company to eliminate these behaviors. While we reserve the right to take the corrective action if you knowingly make a false accusation about an innocent party; you will not face retaliation for making a good faith report or assisting in the investigation of a report.

Be committed to ensuring the health and safety of fellow officers and employees.

We all have the right to work in an environment that is safe and healthy. In this regard, you must:

- a) comply strictly with all occupational, health and safety laws and internal procedures;
- b) not engage in illegal or dangerous behavior, including any acts or threats of violence;
- c) not possess, distribute or be under the influence of drugs while on company premises or when conducting company business; and
- d) not possess or use weapons or firearms or any type of combustible material in the company's facilities, or at company-sponsored functions.

If you or someone you know is in immediate danger of serious bodily harm, first call local law enforcement authorities and then report the incident in accordance with the "Reporting Potential Code Violations" section of the Code and/ or in accordance with the Positive Work Environment Policy.

⁷ "Violence" means an action (oral, written or physical) which causes, is intended to cause, could reasonably be interpreted as a threat to cause, or is capable of causing death or bodily injury to oneself or others, or property damage.

⁸ "Harassment" means conduct which is known or ought reasonably to be known to be unwelcome and includes conduct (e.g., comments and actions) which would be perceived by a reasonable person as being hostile, humiliating or abusive or cause him/ her torment. Harassment covers a wide range of conduct and includes sexual harassment, bullying, and psychological harassment. Harassment may occur in variety and may, in some circumstances, be unintentional, but regardless of intent, all harassment negatively affects individual work performance and our workplace as a whole.

SUSTAINABILITY MANAGEMENT

The Company values sustainability, and generally has a strategy centered on supporting business resilience and creating value where possible – now and in the future. We aim to operate in a sustainable manner and expect our employees to integrate sustainability principles whenever possible. These principles include, for example:

1. Mitigate the impact of our operations on the environment:
 - a. Strive to minimize the environmental impact of operations and improve efficient use of resources over time.
 - b. Support the goal of net zero greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions by 2040 or sooner.
2. Strive to ensure the well-being and safety of employees:
 - a. Foster a positive work environment based on respect for human rights, valuing diversity, and having zero tolerance for workplace discrimination, violence or harassment.
 - b. Operate with leading health and safety practices to support the goal of zero serious safety incidents.
3. Uphold strong governance practices:
 - a. Operate to the highest ethical standards by conducting business activities in accordance with our Code of Business Conduct and Ethics.
 - b. Maintain strong stakeholder relationships through transparency and active engagement.
4. Be good corporate citizens:
 - a. Strive to ensure the interests, safety and well-being of the communities in which we operate are integrated into our business decisions.
 - b. Support philanthropy and volunteerism by our employees.

Human Rights and Modern Day Slavery

We are committed to conducting business in an ethical and responsible manner, including by carrying out our activities in a manner that respects and supports the protection of human rights including but not limited to:

- a) operating with leading health and safety practices to support the goal of zero serious safety incidents;
- b) striving to ensure that the interests, safety, and well-being of the communities in which we operate are integrated into our business decisions;
- c) the elimination of discrimination in employment;
- d) the prohibition of child and forced labour; and
- e) the eradication of harassment and physical or mental abuse in the workplace.

We strive to embed these standards into all of our core business activities, including training, communications, contracts and due diligence processes as appropriate. These practices extend to our interactions with our key suppliers and other business partners.

COMPLIANCE WITH LAWS, RULES, REGULATIONS AND POLICIES

Know and comply with all laws, rules, regulations and policies applicable to your position.

Our business is highly regulated and the company is committed to compliance with applicable laws, rules, regulations and policies. Each of us must recognize our personal obligations as individuals to understand and comply with the laws, rules, regulations, and policies that apply to us in the conduct of our duties, including those that apply specifically to public companies, asset managers and investment advisers, as well as laws with broader applicability such as prohibition on insider trading and other forms of market abuse.

Many of the company's activities are governed by laws, rules, regulations and policies that are subject to change. If you have questions about the applicability or interpretation of certain laws, rules, regulations or policies relevant to your duties at the company, you should consult with the Regulatory and Compliance / Legal team. In the event a local law, custom or practice conflicts with the Code you must adhere to whichever is most stringent. If you know of any of our practices that may be illegal, you have a duty to report it. Ignorance of the law is not, in general, a defense to breaking the law. We expect you to make every reasonable effort to become familiar with the laws, rules, regulations and policies affecting your activities and to comply with them. If you have any doubts as to the applicability or interpretation of any of the above, you should obtain advice from the Regulatory and Compliance / Legal team.

Do not trade in securities of the company or its affiliates or in any other publicly traded securities if you possess material non-public information

While at Company, you may have access to or become aware of material non-public information⁹, either about Brookfield Asset Management, Partners or a related or unrelated publicly traded entity. You must not use this information to gain a financial advantage for yourself or others, either by way of making a trade for yourself, "tipping" others on the information ("i.e., disclosing the information to others such as relatives or friends), or otherwise. Doing so is not only a violation of the Code that will result in immediate termination for cause but is also a serious violation of securities laws and will expose any individuals involved to potential civil and criminal prosecution.

You are restricted from trading Brookfield securities when a Brookfield entity is in a quarterly blackout period relating to the release of its earnings, or when it is in a special blackout period. Information on blackout periods can be obtained via the company's intranet.

If you have questions about securities laws or the company's internal trading policies and procedures, contact the company's Regulatory and Compliance / Legal / Secretarial team.

⁹ Information about an entity is material if there is a substantial likelihood that a reasonable investor would consider the information important when deciding to buy, sell or hold that entity's securities or if the information would be reasonably be expected to result in a change in the market price or value of the securities. Information is "non public" until it has been generally disclosed to the public and adequate time has passed for the securities market to analyze the information. If you are not whether information is material or non- public, consult with the company's Regulatory and Compliance / Legal team for guidance.

Depending on your role at the company, you may have to pre-clear trades or avoid trading altogether.

A small number of employees of the company are designated as “Access Persons” or “Insiders” based on their position, role, responsibility and/or activities. Employees with this designation are notified of such designation by the BIRET compliance team. Access Persons, Insiders and their Family Members must review and comply with the Company’s Personal Trading Policy, including pre-clearance of trades in both Brookfield and non- Brookfield-securities (i.e., all tradeable securities). For more information, refer to the Company’s Personal Trading Policy.

Do not give or receive bribes, including “facilitation payments”.

We value our reputation for conducting business with honesty and integrity. It is vital for us to maintain this reputation as it generates confidence in our business by our stakeholders, which ultimately means it is good for business. We do not pay bribes in furtherance of our business, either directly or indirectly, and you are not permitted to pay bribes on our behalf or authorize others to pay bribes on our behalf. This commitment comes from the highest levels of management and you must meet this standard. A bribe is anything of value that is offered, promised, given or received to improperly influence a decision or to gain an improper or unfair advantage in promoting, enhancing, obtaining or retaining business. Bribery may not always be in the form of cash payments and may take any other forms, including gifts, travel, hospitality, political contributions, charitable donations, lobbying payments, sponsorships, employment opportunities, internships and secondments. Facilitation payments¹⁰ are also a form of bribe and are therefore not permitted. For further details, refer to the company’s Anti-Bribery and Corruption Policy.

Giving or receiving gifts/entertainment should be reasonable, and in certain cases prohibited.

Gifts and entertainment given to or received from persons who have a business relationship with the company are generally acceptable, if the gift or entertainment is modest in value, appropriate to the business relationship, and does not create an appearance of impropriety. No cash or cash equivalent payments should be given or received, except in limited circumstances preapproved by the Regulatory and Compliance / Legal team. Employees who do not comply with these requirements may be required to reimburse the company for the value of any gifts or benefits they make or receive on behalf of the company. For further details refer to the company’s policies covering gifts, entertainment, political contributions, etc.

There may be restrictions on your political donations to candidates and political parties (Not Applicable to Vendors/Consultants).

In certain jurisdictions, political donations made on behalf of the company are prohibited. Political donations made by individuals on their own behalf should comply with local laws and regulations.

We must prevent the use of our operations for money laundering or any activity that facilitates money laundering, the financing of terrorism, violations of sanctions, or other criminal activities.

The company is strongly committed to preventing the use of its operations for money laundering, the financing of terrorism, or other criminal activities, and will take appropriate actions to comply with applicable anti-money laundering laws. Jurisdictions may publish lists of individuals and organizations that the company is prohibited from accepting funds from or distributing funds to under applicable anti-money laundering laws or sanctions laws. Employees are expected to use reasonable care to verify that counterparties are not owned or controlled by, or acting on behalf of, sanctioned governments, groups, individuals or others. This includes requiring counterparties to make anti-money laundering representations (if applicable) and sanctions representations in documents with the company, which the Regulatory and Compliance / Legal team can provide upon request. In addition, the Company has designed controls to ensure we are appropriately managing the risks of the business in these areas. The Company has a Sanctions Policy that should be followed.

You should consider your rights and obligations when providing information to governmental authorities.

Either during or following your employment at the Company you may be contacted by governmental authorities (e.g. law enforcement, securities regulators, etc.) who are seeking confidential information from you which you obtained through your association with the Company. Whether you are able to respond to these questions or not, we strongly recommend that, for your own protection, you do not speak with the authorities without first seeking legal advice on your rights and obligations. In this situation, you may contact the company's EVP – Regulatory Affairs & Compliance who can help you retain counsel that can assist you.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing in the Code prohibits or restricts you in any way from providing information to a governmental authority pursuant to applicable whistleblowing regulations. For further information, refer to the Whistleblower Policy.

You have internal reporting obligations in the event you are convicted of a felony or misdemeanor.

We are only as good as our people, and therefore our reputation as a leading global alternative asset manager depends on the reputation of the individuals who serve the company as a director, officer or employee. Our screening process at the company is rigorous and includes background checks so that we have the best information possible about our prospective officers and employees. Once at the company, we expect you to continue to adhere to these principles of openness, honesty and transparency. If at any time while you are associated with the company you are convicted of a felony or misdemeanor (or been subject to any similar conviction in any jurisdiction) or are involved in any conduct that you think may be relevant to your reputation, you have an obligation to report this information to the Regulatory and Compliance / Legal team or your supervisor so that it may be appropriately documented internally.

¹⁰ Facilitation payments are small payments made to secure or speed up routine actions or otherwise induce public officials or other third parties to perform routine functions they are otherwise obligated to perform, such as issuing permits, approving immigration documents or releasing goods held in customs. This does not include legally required administrative fees or fees to fast-track services.

REPORTING POTENTIAL CODE VIOLATIONS

You are expected to make good faith reports

Internal reporting is critical to the company's success, and it is both expected and valued. You are required to be proactive and promptly report any suspected violations of the Code, or any illegal or unethical behavior or misconduct that you become aware of or are involved with. When making a report, please include specific details and back-up documentation where feasible in order to permit adequate investigation of the concern or conduct reported. Vague, nonspecific, or unsupported allegations are inherently more difficult to pursue.

Employees are expected to report actual or potential misconduct or violations of the Code to their supervisor in the first instance, since their supervisor is generally in the best position to resolve the issue. Alternatively, you may contact the Human Resources ("HR") department or the company's EVP – Regulatory Affairs & Compliance to report any actual or potential misconduct or Code violations, or if you have any specific or general questions.

If you have questions about securities laws or the company's whistleblower policy, contact the company's Regulatory and Compliance / Legal team or refer to the Whistleblower policy.

In the event you do not want to report violations to your supervisor, HR or Regulatory and Compliance / Legal team, you can always make a report through the company's reporting hotline.

Our reporting hotline (the "Reporting Hotline") is managed by an independent third party. The Reporting Hotline allows anyone to call anonymously (if they so choose) to report suspected unethical, illegal or unsafe behavior in English and other languages. The Reporting Hotline is available toll-free, 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Refer to the "Contact Information" section of the Code for the Reporting Hotline phone numbers by jurisdiction. If you choose to make an anonymous report, your anonymity will be protected to the fullest extent possible as permitted by law.

Reports will be kept confidential and will be dealt with appropriately.

The confidentiality of reported violations will be maintained to the fullest extent possible, consistent with the need to conduct an adequate review and subject to applicable law. You may wish to identify yourself to facilitate our investigation of any report; however, you can make an anonymous report by calling the Reporting Hotline. The party receiving the initial report must record its receipt, document how the situation was dealt with and file a report with designated internal personnel. It is possible the report may be shared with relevant boards, committees, stakeholders at the Company, in accordance with any applicable policies or procedures, or externally (if required by law).

The company prohibits retaliation against anyone who reports suspected violations of the Code or any law or regulation.

No retribution or retaliation will be taken against any person who has filed a report based on the reasonably good faith belief that a violation of the Code or any law or regulation has occurred or may in the future occur; however, making a report does not necessarily absolve you (if you are involved) or anyone else of the breach or suspected breach of the Code. The company reserves the right to discipline you, if you provide false information or make an accusation you know to be untrue. This does not mean that the information that you provide has to be correct, but it does mean that you must reasonably believe that the information is truthful and demonstrates at least a possible violation of the Code. If you believe that you have been unfairly or unlawfully retaliated against, you may file a report with your supervisor, the HR team, the company's Regulatory and Compliance / Legal team or by calling the Reporting Hotline.

DISCIPLINARY ACTION FOR CODE VIOLATIONS

Please note that we reserve the right to take disciplinary action for Code violations that fits the nature and particular facts of the violation. This could, include immediate termination for cause and, if warranted, legal proceedings may be brought against you.

STATEMENT OF COMPLIANCE

Upon starting at the Company, each director, officer, employee and temporary worker who is subject to this Code will be provided with a copy of the Code and policies referred to herein and is required to sign an acknowledgement. The acknowledgement is maintained by the company's Regulatory and Compliance / Legal team. On an annual basis, each officer, employee and temporary worker who is subject to this Code will be required to re-certify compliance with the Code. Annual certification as to compliance with the Code and the policies incorporated by reference herein shall be a condition of your continued, employment, or engagement with the company.

WAIVERS

A waiver of the Code will be granted only in very exceptional circumstances. A Code waiver must be approved by the CEO or EVP - Regulatory Affairs & Compliance.

AMENDMENTS

Senior management of the company reviews and approves the Code on at least an annual basis and is ultimately responsible for monitoring compliance with the Code.

LEGAL NOTICE

The company reserves the right to modify, suspend or revoke the Code and any related policies, procedures, and programs at any time. The company also reserves the right to interpret and amend the Code and these policies in its sole discretion. Any amendments to the Code will be disclosed and reported as required by applicable law.

The company employs unionized employees and if the Code conflicts with a collective bargaining agreement governing the wages and/or conditions of employment for unionized employees, the collective bargaining agreement will prevail; if a collective bargaining agreement is silent with respect to an area addressed in the Code, or if the Code supplements a collective bargaining agreement, unionized employees are expected to abide by the Code.

Neither the Code, nor any of the policies referred to herein, confer any rights, privileges or benefits on any employee, create an entitlement to continued employment at the company, establish conditions of employment for the employee, or create an express or implied contract of any kind between employees and the company. In addition, the Code does not modify the employment relationship between employees and the company.

The code is posted on our website and intranet. The version of the code on our website and intranet may be more current and supersedes any paper copies, should there be any discrepancy between paper copies and what is posted online.

CODE OF BUSINESS CONDUCT AND ETHICS STATEMENT OF COMPLIANCE

All directors, officers, employees, vendors, and consultants must complete this Statement of Compliance or certify the company's electronic Statement of Compliance through the company's web-based compliance program.

I have received, reviewed, and understand the Code of Business Conduct and Ethics (the "Code") of the company for directors, officers, employees, vendors, and consultants.

I hereby agree to comply with the Code, including its provisions for nondisclosure of information both during and after appointment or employment.

To the best of my knowledge, I am not involved in any situation that conflicts or might appear to conflict with the Code.

I also agree to notify my supervisor, the Chief /Head Internal Auditor of the company, or in the case of directors, the Chair of the company's Board of Directors, immediately of any change that might adversely affect my compliance with the Code.
